

Construction Manager Interior Fit-Out (m/f/d)

brandcycle group GmbH

Location Hybrid and Moers, Germany | Employment Type Full-time

About us

brandcycle group is an innovative company that specializes in experience marketing, sustainable brand development and transformation. We consist of experienced professionals with skills ranging from brand creation to implementation, with expertise in design, architecture, technical product design to interior design as well as creative and technical know-how in project management and structural implementation. We thus offer comprehensive end-to-end solutions for trade fairs, live marketing, retail, POS and modern working environments. Every project is approached from the outset with an eye to sustainability and the use of AI and digital solutions to make brands as tangible as possible. We focus on growth through change, with a clear focus on sustainability and internationality.

To strengthen our team, we are looking for an experienced Construction Manager Interior Fit-Out (m/f/d). In this role, you will be responsible for on-site execution of projects. You will coordinate all trades directly on construction sites and ensure smooth execution, high quality, and adherence to timelines. This role involves frequent travel – both within Germany and internationally – and working predominantly on changing construction sites..

Your Responsibilities

- Managing and supervising construction and installation processes on national and international sites
- Coordinating subcontractors, suppliers, and installation teams on site
- Ensuring compliance with timelines, budgets, and quality standards during execution
- Close coordination with internal project management, clients, and planners
- Organizing and leading construction meetings and documenting progress
- Reviewing technical drawings, specifications, and execution documents
- Monitoring deliveries, logistics, and installation processes
- Managing defects and ensuring proper execution of all construction works
- Supporting project completion, handover, and final acceptance
- Regular travel to project sites across Germany and Europe

Your Profile

- Completed training or degree in construction, interior fit-out, architecture, or a comparable field
- Several years of experience in construction management, ideally in retail, exhibition, or interior fit-out
- Solid understanding of construction processes, materials, and technical documentation
- Experience coordinating multiple trades and subcontractors on site
- Confident use of MS Office and ideally project or ERP systems
- Excellent German and good English skills
- Structured, independent, and solution-oriented working style
- High level of responsibility and quality awareness
- High willingness to travel and readiness to work predominantly on changing construction sites

What We Offer

- A varied and responsible role with exciting projects
- A dynamic and motivated team with flat hierarchies
- Opportunities for personal development and training
- Attractive salary and modern work equipment
- Possibility for hybrid working
- Company car for business and private use
